I. INTRODUCTION

Congress established the Court Services and Offender Supervision Agency for the District of Columbia (CSOSA) in the National Capital Revitalization and Self-Government Improvement Act of 1997. In that same Act, Congress established the Pretrial Services Agency of the District of Columbia (PSA) as an independent entity within CSOSA. For purposes of this report, CSOSA and PSA are collectively referred to as the “Agency.” The Agency was certified as an independent Executive branch agency in 2000 and remains committed to increasing public safety, preventing crime, promoting pretrial justice, enhancing community safety, reducing recidivism, and supporting the fair administration of justice in the District of Columbia.

The Agency is pleased to present its Annual Notification and Federal Employee Antidiscrimination and Retaliation Act (No FEAR Act) Report to Congress for Fiscal Year 2022. This report summarizes the Agency’s activities aimed at ensuring accountability for antidiscrimination and whistleblower employment related laws. This No FEAR Act Annual Report covers the timeframe from October 1, 2021, through September 30, 2022.

The No FEAR Act was signed into law by President George W. Bush on May 15, 2002, and became effective on October 1, 2003. The Act requires Federal agencies to be accountable for violations of antidiscrimination and whistleblower protection laws and to post on their websites certain statistical data relating to Federal sector Equal Employment Opportunity (EEO) complaints filed with the Agency. The No FEAR Act also requires that, no later than 180 days after the end of the fiscal year, Federal agencies submit an annual report to the Speaker of the House of Representatives, the President pro tempore of the Senate, the Committee on Governmental Affairs of the Senate, the Committee on Government Reform of the House of Representatives, each committee of Congress with jurisdiction relating to the Agency, the Attorney General, and the Equal Employment Opportunity Commission (EEOC). Federal agencies are also mandated to submit the report to the Office of Personnel Management (OPM) pursuant to 5 C.F.R. § 724.302.

Under the No FEAR Act, Federal agencies must report:

- the number, status, and disposition of Federal District Court cases arising under the laws covered by the No FEAR Act;
- the amount of any reimbursements to the Judgment Fund;
- the number and types of disciplinary actions taken against employees related to discrimination, retaliation, or harassment or the commission of a prohibited personnel practice;
- the policies implemented relating to appropriate disciplinary actions;
- the final year end summary data related to the Agency’s EEO complaint activity for the fiscal year;
- an analysis of the data collected with respect to trends and causal analysis;
- actions planned or taken to improve the Agency’s complaint program; and
- the Agency’s No FEAR training plan.

Consistent with the mandates of this statute, the Agency posted its quarterly complaint statistics on its internal and external websites.

II. DATA

A. Civil Cases and Dispositions

Under Section 203(a)(1) of the No FEAR Act, Federal agencies are required to report the number of Federal District Court “cases arising under each of the respective provisions of law covered by paragraphs (1) and (2) of section 201(a) in which discrimination on the part of such agency was alleged.” Further, Section 203(a)(2) requires agencies to report the status or dispositions of those cases. Pursuant to these reporting requirements, the Agency announces that there were no new cases filed in Federal District Court in FY 2022. However, in FY 2022, there were three (3) cases pending in Federal District Court. All of those cases have been resolved in favor of the Agency as of the date of this report.

The Agency sets forth below charts with the bases and issues raised in the cases pending in Federal District Court in FY 2022. The basis is the protected characteristic the Plaintiff alleges motivated the allegedly discriminatory conduct. The issue is the specific type(s) of action(s) or incident(s) for which the Plaintiff is seeking redress. Since a Plaintiff may allege more than one basis for discrimination and/or more than one issue in a case, the total number of bases and/or issues alleged will generally exceed the number of cases filed and/or pending.

In FY 2022, reprisal in violation of Title VII of the Civil Rights Act of 1964 (“Title VII”) was the most frequently alleged basis in the cases pending in Federal District Court. This basis was cited in all three (3) cases. Discrimination on the basis of race in violation of Title VII was alleged in two (2) of the cases. Discrimination on the basis of color and sex in violation of Title VII was alleged in one (1) of the cases. Discrimination based on age in violation of the Age Discrimination in Employment Act of 1967 was alleged in one (1) of the pending cases.

Alleged Bases

Basis	No. of Pending Cases	Resolved
Reprisal	3	3
Race	2	2
Color	1	1
Sex	1	1
Age	1	1

The most frequently alleged issue in the pending cases was performance evaluations/appraisals. This issue was alleged in two (2) of the three (3) cases. Harassment (non-sexual), reassignment, and terms and conditions were alleged as issues in one (1) of the pending cases. Non-selection/non-promotion was alleged as an issue in one (1) of the pending cases.

Alleged Issues

Issue	No. of Pending Cases	Resolved
Performance Evaluations/ Appraisal	2	2
Promotion/Non-selection	1	1
Harassment (non-sexual)	1	1
Reassignment	1	1
Terms and Conditions	1	1

B. Judgment Fund Reimbursements

Section 203(a)(3) of the No FEAR Act mandates that agencies include in their reports the amount of money the Federal agencies were required to reimburse the Judgment Fund for payments covered by the Act and identify the amount of the reimbursements attributable to the payment of attorneys’ fees. The Act also requires that agencies report any budgetary adjustments required to comply with agencies’ obligations to reimburse the Judgment Fund under Section 203(a)(7)(8). As required by these mandates, the Agency reports that it was not required to reimburse the Judgment Fund or make any budgetary adjustments in FY 2022.

C. Disciplinary Actions

Pursuant to Section 203(a)(4) of the No FEAR Act, Federal agencies must report “the number of employees disciplined for discrimination, retaliation, harassment, or any other infraction of any provision of law referred to in paragraph (1)” of the Act. In FY 2022, the Agency did not discipline any employees for discrimination, retaliation, harassment, or any other infraction of any provision of law referred to in Section 203(a)(1) of the Act.

D. Disciplinary Policies

Section 203(a)(6) of the No FEAR Act requires Federal agencies to include in their annual report a detailed description of the policies implemented by the agencies related to disciplinary actions imposed against a Federal employee who discriminates against any individual in violation of the laws alleged under Section 201(a)(1) or (a)(2).

The Agency promulgated and enforced its EEO and antidiscrimination policies and procedures to prevent discrimination and to notify employees of the consequences of engaging in discriminatory acts. These policies set forth employee rights and responsibilities under EEO laws. These policies are periodically reviewed to ensure that they are current and are applied consistently and fairly.

The Agency has in place an Equal Employment Opportunity and Diversity Policy and an Anti-Harassment Policy, both of which are accessible on the Agency’s intranet. The Agency also provides the substance of the Equal Employment Opportunity and Diversity Policy as well as the Anti-Harassment Policy to employees at the time they join the Agency. Further, employees receive training on those policies and the Agency's EEO Program during the New Employee Orientation program.

The Equal Employment Opportunity and Diversity Policy sets forth the Agency's firm commitment to a workplace free of discrimination and harassment. It explains the EEO process, including how to initiate the process, the regulatory timeframes involved, and the various steps in the process.

The Anti-Harassment Policy reinforces the Agency's commitment to an environment free of harassment. It defines sexual harassment, sets forth the roles and responsibilities of the various offices, and includes an illustration of the EEO complaint process.

III. FINAL YEAR-END DATA

Section 203(a)(5) of the No FEAR Act mandates that the report includes the Agency's final year-end data posted under Section 301(c)(1)(B) for each fiscal year. In addition, Section 301(c)(2) requires that Federal agencies include the data for each of the five (5) immediately preceding fiscal years. The Agency includes the final year-end data required under Section 301(b) in Appendix A.

IV. COMPLAINT DATA ANALYSIS

Pursuant to the No FEAR Act's Section 203(a)(7), Federal agencies must analyze the "information described under paragraphs (1) and (6) in conjunction with data provided to the Equal Employment Opportunity Commission [,]...including (A) an examination of trends; (B) causal analysis; (C) practical knowledge gained through experience; and (D) any actions planned or taken to improve complaint or civil rights programs of the agency." Below, the Agency sets forth its analysis in the respective areas.

A. Trends, Causal Analysis, and Practical Knowledge Gained

1. Pre-Complaints

The objective of the EEO pre-complaint process, whenever possible, is to seek resolution of the concerns raised by an applicant, employee, or former employee, i.e., the Aggrieved, and avoid the filing of a formal EEO complaint. In most cases, the Aggrieved is offered the option to proceed with traditional EEO Counseling or participate in the Alternative Dispute Resolution (ADR) process.

If the Aggrieved elects to participate in the traditional EEO counseling process, the Aggrieved is assigned an EEO Counselor who has thirty (30) days to conduct an inquiry into the allegations by interviewing the Aggrieved, Management Representatives, and any witnesses. The Responsible Management Officials (RMOs) are presented with the Aggrieved's request for relief to reach a resolution. The 30-day timeframe can be extended up to an additional sixty (60) days with the approval of the Aggrieved. If no resolution is reached, the EEO Counselor will conduct a final interview with the Aggrieved and provide a Notice of Right to File an EEO Complaint. The Aggrieved has fifteen (15) days after receipt of the Notice to file a formal complaint.

If the Aggrieved elects to participate in the ADR process in lieu of traditional EEO counseling, the pre-complaint is forwarded to the Agency's ADR Director for processing. The ADR Office has up to ninety (90) days to attempt to obtain a resolution. If no resolution is reached, the pre-complaint is returned to the EEO Office which will contact, so that the EEO Counselor can conduct a final interview and provide the Aggrieved with a Right to File Notice. Again, the Aggrieved has fifteen days (15) after receipt of the Notice to file a formal complaint.

From October 1, 2021, through September 30, 2022, the Agency received twenty (20) pre-complaint contacts from twenty (20) individuals. A pre-complaint contact is when an individual initially contacts the EEO Office or an EEO Counselor about a particular concern. In FY 2022, four (4) of the contacts were individuals whose matters fell outside the jurisdiction of the Agency's EEO Office because these individuals were not former employees, current employees or applicants for employment with the Agency. Five (5) additional contacts, whose matters were within the purview of the Agency's EEO Office, chose not to file pre-complaints.

During FY 2022, the Agency processed eleven (11) pre-complaints filed by eleven (11) Aggrieveds. At the end of the fiscal year, seven (7) of the eleven (11) Aggrieveds were still in the pre-complaint stage. Four (4) of the eleven (11) Aggrieveds completed the pre-complaint stage. Only two (2) of those four (4) Aggrieveds elected to file a formal complaint.

a. Alternative Dispute Resolution (ADR)

In FY 2022, nine (9) of the eleven (11) Aggrieveds who filed pre-complaints elected to participate in the ADR process in lieu of traditional EEO counseling. Two (2) Aggrieveds proceeded through the entire ADR process without a successful resolution of their pre-complaints. Seven (7) Aggrieveds remained in the ADR process at the end of the fiscal year.

Since nine (9) out of eleven (11) Aggrieveds elected to participate in the ADR process in lieu of traditional EEO counseling, the ADR participation rate was approximately 82%. The FY 2022 ADR participation rate of 82% was over 20 percentage points higher than the FY 2021 ADR participation rate of 61%. The FY 2022 ADR participation rate was nearly three (3) times greater than the FY 2020 participation rate of 28%.

The Agency remains committed to continuing to promote ADR as appropriate to address concerns that may give rise to EEO complaints and encourage ADR participation. To that end, the Agency continues to employ several strategies in its attempt to improve the participation rate, including offering ADR in every appropriate instance and providing additional training on the ADR program and its benefits in resolving workplace conflicts.

2. Complaints

a. New Complaints

If no resolution is reached in the pre-complaint process, the EEO Counselor will conduct a final interview with the Aggrieved and provide the Aggrieved with a Notice of Right to File an EEO Complaint. The Aggrieved has fifteen (15) days after receipt of the Notice to file a formal complaint. If the Aggrieved files a formal complaint, the Aggrieved is then referred to as the Complainant.

In FY 2022, five (5) new formal complaints were filed. Three (3) of the five (5) complaints were filed by Complainants who completed the pre-complaint process in FY 2021. Two (2) of the five (5) complaints were filed by Complainants who initiated and completed the pre-complaint process in FY 2022. The Agency accepted all five (5) of the new complaints for investigation.

In FY 2022, the Agency experienced a decrease in the number of new complaints filed as compared to the prior fiscal year. In FY 2021, eight (8) new complaints were filed. Three (3) fewer cases were filed in FY 2022.

The Agency sets forth below the most commonly alleged bases and issues raised in the complaints filed in FY 2022. The basis is the protected characteristic the Complainant alleges motivated the allegedly discriminatory conduct. The issue is the specific types of action(s) or incident(s) for which the Complainant is seeking redress. The Complainant may allege more than one basis for discrimination and/or more than one issue in a complaint. Thus, the total number of bases and/or issue alleged may exceed the number of complaints filed.

In FY 2022, reprisal continued to be the most frequently alleged bases for discrimination by Complainants. Reprisal was alleged in four (4) of the five (5) cases filed in FY 2022. Age was alleged in three (3) of the five (5) complaints, making it the second most commonly alleged basis.

The number of complaints citing reprisal, race, sex, age, and/or disability as a basis decreased significantly. The number of complaints citing reprisal declined from six (6) in FY 2021 to four (4) in FY 2022. The number of complaints citing race decreased from seven (7) in FY 2021 to one (1) in FY 2022. The number of complaints citing sex as a basis declined from (7) in FY 2021 to one (1) in FY 2022. Finally, disability was alleged as a basis in only one (1) complaint in FY 2022, which was four (4) complaints fewer than in FY 2021, when there were five (3) complaints in which disability discrimination was alleged.

In FY 2022, the most frequently alleged issue was harassment (non-sexual), which was alleged in four (4) complaints. The number of complaints citing this issue decreased by three (3) from FY 2021, when seven (7) complaints included harassment (non-sexual) as an issue.

The second most frequently alleged issue in FY 2022 was performance appraisals, which was alleged in three (3) of the complaints filed. This was an increase from FY 2021, when only one (1) complaint alleged a performance appraisal as an issue.

In reviewing the complaints data, it is clear that the Agency must continue to focus training in the areas of reprisal discrimination, as this area was identified in the majority of the complaints filed in FY 2022. Reprisal has accounted for the majority of the allegations since FY 2014. Moreover, harassment continues to remain among the most alleged issues since 2014, which demonstrates the Agency’s continuing need to train in this area as well. To that end, the Agency intends to continue conducting training focusing on reprisal and harassment discrimination.

The chart below compares the most frequent bases alleged by Agency complainants in FY 2022 with the bases most frequently alleged in the complaints filed by Federal complainants in FY 2021. ¹

Most Frequent Bases²

Agency (FY 2022)	Government-Wide (FY 2021) ³
Reprisal/Retaliation – 80 %	Reprisal/Retaliation – 56%
Disability– 60%	Disability (mental/physical) – 37.2%
Race – 20%	Race – 34.1%
Sex – 20%	Sex – 30.6%
Age – 20%	Age – 21.1%

The chart below indicates the number of complaints filed in FY 2022 separated by the Agency’s organizational units in which the complaints arose. The Agency will use this information to prioritize these units for training.

Volume of New Complaint Activity

CSOSA Organizational Unit	Number of Complaints
Office of Community Supervision & Intervention Services (OCSIS)	4
Office of General Counsel	1
PSA Organizational Unit	Number of Complaints

b. Investigations

Once the Agency accepts a complaint, it must conduct an impartial and thorough investigation and prepare the factual Record of Investigation (ROI) upon which a factfinder can make a determination on the merits of the complaint and draw a conclusion as to whether discrimination occurred. The Agency has 180 days to conduct its investigation. The 180-day timeframe can be extended by up to 90 days with the approval of the Complainant. Complainants also may seek to amend their complaints to add other like or related allegations. Doing so can extend the timeframe for the investigation. However, the investigation must be completed within 180 days of the last amendment of the complaint, but no more than 360 days after the original complaint was filed.

¹ Comparable data by percentages is not available to conduct a comparison of frequently alleged issues in the same manner.

² These percentages add up to more than 100% because some complaints allege multiple bases.

³ The government-wide statistics are found at Charge Statistics \(Charges filed with EEOC\) FY 1997 Through FY 2021 | U.S. Equal Employment Opportunity Commission.

If the Agency dismisses a complaint, the Complainant can appeal the dismissal to the EEOC's Office of Operations (OFO). The EEOC's OFO has the authority to overturn the dismissal and remand the complaint back to the Agency for investigation, at which time the Agency has 150 days to complete the investigation.

During FY 2022, the Agency began investigations for five (5) new complaints and continued investigations for two (2) complaints that were filed in the previous year. By the end of the FY 2022, the Agency had completed investigations and issued ROIs for five (5) of the seven (7) complaints.

3. Post-Investigation Activity

At the end of FY 2022, six (6) complaints were awaiting a hearing before the EEOC. Two (2) of the six (6) complaints were filed in FY 2022. Four (4) of the complaints were filed in previous fiscal years.

At the end of FY 2022, there were four (4) complaints pending appeal with the EEOC's Office of Federal Operations. One (1) of the four (4) complaints was filed in FY 2022. The other three (3) complaints were filed in previous fiscal years. In FY 2022, there were no findings of discrimination.

B. Actions Planned or Taken to Improve Agency's EEO Complaint Program/No FEAR Act Training Plan

During FY 2022, the Agency employed the following actions aimed at improving the Agency's EEO complaint program. Those actions included:

- using technology to provide web-based EEO and No FEAR Act training to ensure employees received such training on a biennial basis and to ensure new employees received such training within 90 days of their arrival at the Agency;
- supplementing web-based EEO and No FEAR training with mini-topic specific training;
- utilizing collateral duty EEO Counselors to increase awareness of the Agency's EEO and ADR programs in their respective organizational units;
- revising the ADR policy and process;
- revising the exit interview process for departing employees;

- providing specialized training to new supervisors on their roles and responsibilities as management officials named in an EEO complaint;
- continuing to closely partner with Special Emphasis Program Committees, which provide a resource and a venue for employees in underrepresented groups to identify issues that may be unique to the groups; and
- creating a Special Emphasis Program Committee for employees who identify as lesbian, gay, bisexual, and transgender, and queer (LGBTQ+) and employees who are allies.

In FY 2023, the Agency plans to take the following actions:

- continuing supplementing web-based EEO and No FEAR training with mini topic-specific training;
- provide training on the new ADR policy and process;
- provide specialize training to all levels of management and supervision on their role and responsibilities as management officials named in a EEO complaint – i.e., preservation of records, answering interview questionnaires, timeliness of submitting requested information
- continue to improve the timeliness of complaints processing and investigations;
- continue to offer exit interview opportunities for departing employees; and
- continue to recruit and appoint new members of the Special Emphasis Program Committees, and Collateral EEO Counselors.
